

HOW TO DO SPACE AGE WORK WITH A STONE AGE BRAIN™

The guide to using your brain style for Small Business Success

Our brains haven't changed for 50,000 years.

Today, small business owners process thousands of times more information than we did just a century ago.

Whether your business operates inside or outside your home, Eve Abbott brings you the keys to escape from information overload, paper piles and mind-numbing multi-tasks. Let Eve show you How to Do Space Age Work with a Stone Age Brain™.

In this guide, you'll find new ways to deal with the tough challenges in today's fast-paced small businesses. This entertaining, highly interactive guide offers easy, online assessments to help make your own personal organizing solutions match your individual work style. Plus, it is loaded with photos and checklists! Eve wrote this book for you: "My thrill is teaching other small business owners how to use their innate organizing matrix to save at least an hour a day...everyday."

ALL ABOUT EVE:

For 20 years, Eve Abbott has been writing, speaking and consulting with business owners and their teams on boosting their day-to-day effectiveness with organizing tools and techniques to melt the paper blizzard and tackle e-mail overload.

Eve is the Organizer Extraordinaire, a personal productivity expert who learned her first organizing lessons as a Navy brat, attending ten different elementary schools. "If your Mom handed you a milk crate and said 'Put everything you love in here, because we're moving tomorrow,' you'd get skilled at prioritizing anything quickly, too!"

Her wisdom has reached the pages of Working Woman, Home Office Computing and The New York Times articles.

"If you, your team or your company is not organized and fully functioning...you are wasting valuable time and money. How to Do Space Age Work with a Stone Age Brain™ should be required reading for every business owner and their employees."
